Second Reading

Romans 8: 18-23

Reading letter Paul to Romans

Sufferings of this time are nothing—compared with future glory shown through us. Truly, the whole world waits eagerly for the revelation of God.

Everything God made was changed to be like it was worth nothing... But hope continues, because the world will be free from ruin. All will share in the glory of God's children.

Yes, we know all the world waits in pain until now. We, ourselves, also wait with pain inside us while we wait for the salvation of our bodies.
